

Request for Qualifications
Career Pathways for English Language Learners

April 21, 2014

To organizations, businesses, and community colleges in the Seattle area working with English language learner populations:

Seattle Jobs Initiative (SJI) is issuing this request for qualifications (RFQ) to non-profit/for-profit organizations, businesses, labor organizations and community colleges with programs that serve English language learners (ELL) residing in the City of Seattle. The objective of the funding is to increase the capacity of existing programs that help ELLs advance toward economic self-sufficiency through the attainment of higher levels of English language proficiency, job skills, and/or credentials that are directly tied to career advancement. The total funding available for this work is $100,000 over a one-year period with the possibility of a second year of funding based on performance and City of Seattle 2015 budget authorization.

OVERVIEW

Seattle Jobs Initiative (SJI) is a workforce intermediary that seeks to open doors to living-wage careers through both direct program services and systems improvement efforts. Our current Career Pathways strategy provides low-income, low-skill adults with short- and longer-term job skills training in growing industry sectors in partnership with area community colleges. Participants are supported through sector-based training and into jobs via career navigation and wrap around support services. SJI's systems work is focused on improving access to and persistence in community college for our target population. This is accomplished through research, as well as convening and spurring better alignment and collaboration among systems stakeholders.

Beginning in 2014, SJI, with support from the City of Seattle Office of Economic Development (OED), is making $100,000 available annually for one year, with the possibility of a second year, to support an organization in delivering high-quality workforce development services that fosters the economic advancement of English Language Learners (ELLs) within the City of Seattle. Funds will be contracted to the organization selected by SJI through a Request for Qualifications (RFQ) process.

PROJECT OBJECTIVES

The overall purpose of the project is to support ELLs residing within the City of Seattle to advance toward economic self-sufficiency through the attainment of higher-level English language skills, job skills and/or credentials/industry certifications that are directly tied to career advancement opportunities within in-demand industries and occupations. As funding is limited, it is intended to expand/increase the impact of a currently successful program, not to seed a new project.

Desired Outcomes:

Funding is intended to support the following key outcomes for ELLs:

- Entry and/or Progression within In-Demand Occupations with Career Pathways
- English Language and Literacy Gains
- Skill Development/Educational Attainment

Targeted Populations:

Funding will target one or more of the following populations (not mutually-exclusive):

- English Language Learners
- Linguistically Isolated Professionals
- Incumbent ELL Workers
- Low-Income ELLs

QUALIFICATIONS

Eligible Organizations:

The following types of organizations are eligible for project funding:

- Non-profit/For-Profit Organizations
- Businesses
- Labor Organizations
- Community Colleges

Core Criteria:

Qualified organizations must demonstrate recent, measurable success in providing services to the target population related to the services they propose to offer through this project.

2. Sustainability Plan and Scaling of Existing Services

3. Measurable Outcomes and Demonstrated Ability to Track Outcomes

Qualified organizations must clearly demonstrate the outcomes their proposed program is currently achieving, as well as the anticipated outcomes it will achieve as a result of project funding and how these will be measured. They must demonstrate a current ability to track and report on these outcomes.

4. Connection to the City of Seattle

1. On-Ramps to Demonstrated Career Path and/or Contextualized English Language Program

The proposed project prepares ELLs for – and directly connects them to – 1) employment with demonstrated pathways to career advancement (the project may support this advancement), and/or 2) contextualized English language programs (e.g., a community college I-BEST or similar program).

2. Attainment of Industry Certifications

The proposed project prepares ELLs to attain specific industry certifications that will lead to greater employment opportunities within those industries.

3. Demonstrated Wage Progression

The proposed project provides services that it can demonstrate will lead to measurable wage gains for ELLs as a result of services provided.

4. Improves Knowledge in Field

The proposed project will improve knowledge of best practices for assisting ELLs to advance to better employment outcomes through the targeted intervention(s). The organization can describe the innovative intervention(s) to be deployed, how its effectiveness will be measured against a baseline, and how knowledge gained will be documented and shared with the field at the local level.

5. Demonstrates processes that increases capacity and efficiency through partnership

The project should demonstrate processes that leverage capacity from partner organizations by decreasing duplicated functions. For example, can assessment or training be done in ways that shorten a customer's time on a college campus? Can potential students be pre-qualified for college in ways that increase retention?

Prior to the end of the contracted period, a review of project outcomes will occur.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

The following grievance procedure shall apply to all contracts awarded by Seattle Jobs Initiative ("SJI"). Therefore, SJI will, at its sole option, entertain appeals to the RFQ process as follows:

1. Unsuccessful applicants may appeal the award of an RFQ. Appeals must be submitted in accordance with this procedure. SJI will review the appeals; however, the appeal might not affect the outcome decision.

2. Appeals must contain a brief statement of the facts and the basis for the grievance in clear terms. The basis of the grievance must be a violation of a state or federal contracting law, rule or regulation, which is applicable to the contracting process; AND/OR be a violation of the stated review process published within the original RFQ.
3. SJI retains the right to reject any and all proposals and is not required to award any contract if in its opinion the proposal received failed to meet its requirements, if the proposal is non-responsive or if the bidder is not responsible.
4. All appeals must be in writing, must comply with the requirements set forth in this appeal procedure and must be received or postmarked by SJI within five (5) business days of receipt of notification of the successful respondent.
5. Appeals must be sent either by first class U.S. mail or via delivery service, to SJI Executive Director, Seattle Jobs Initiative, 830 4th Avenue S #206, Seattle, WA 98134. If the appeal is sent via first class U.S. mail, Appellants must also send a copy of the appeal via facsimile to (206) 628-6986.
6. Appellants will be allowed to review the proposals submitted on site at SJI offices. All propriety information will be deleted such as financial statements and audits, and no photocopies of the proposals will be allowed.
7. All protests are public information after the protest period ends.
8. The SJI Executive Director will review grievances that meet the above conditions. The Executive Director will provide a written determination within 5 business days of receipt of the appeal or receipt of additional information that may be required by SJI, whichever is later.
9. During any part of the review or consideration, the protester may be asked to clarify or amplify statements or to provide proof of claims or other statements. Any such requests must be fully responded to within the time designated by the Executive Director. In the event a protester fails to respond, the grievance will be dismissed and no further protest will be accepted.
10. The Executive Director's written response is final, unless appealed as provided below to the SJI Board of Directors within the time frame set forth below.
11. The decision of the Executive Director may be appealed to the SJI Board of Directors. Any such second level appeal must be submitted in writing to the President of the SJI Board of Directors and received or postmarked within five (5) working days of the protester's receipt of the decision of the Executive Director. Failure to comply with this time period is a complete waiver of the appellant's ability to appeal, and the Executive Director's decision shall become final and binding on the parties. This appeal must contain the same information and follow the same procedure as the original appeal and, in addition, must clearly state how the decision of the Executive Director is in error or based on a misunderstanding of fact.

12. Prior to the release of the RFQ, the SJI Board President will appoint three members to serve on a review committee. The review committee will review all applicable materials.
13. The SJI Board Review Committee may request additional information from the appellant.
14. The final written decision of the SJI Board Review Committee will be conveyed to the protestor within ten (10) working days of the receipt of the second level appeal or receipt of any additional information requested by the SJI Board Review Committee whichever is later.
15. Unless the appellant has a right to appeal or protest pursuant to state or federal law, the written decision by the SJI Board Review Committee is the final and binding resolution to the protest. If the appellant has a right to appeal or protest pursuant to state or federal law, the appellant must follow the laws, rules and regulations applicable to such protests.
16. If an appeal is filed, no new contracts resulting from the solicitation will be finalized until the appeal process is completed or the appeal resolved (although SJI may continue to negotiate contracts with the apparently successful bidder). An appeal will not prevent SJI from issuing an interim contract for services to meet critical client needs.
17. Except for those contracts where SJI is required to award contracts through competitive procurement, SJI retains the right to award contracts to those entities whom, in SJI's sole discretion, submit the most beneficial proposal. SJI may reject any and all bids and is not required to award bids to the lowest bidder. For those contracts required to be awarded through a competitive procurement process, SJI reserves the right to reject any and all bids for non-responsiveness or to re-bid the procurement. SJI also reserves its right to reject any bids in accordance with the competitive procurement process. For all contracts, SJI recognizes that unsuccessful bidders may want to discuss the award of the RFQ and provide further information for SJI's consideration.
